

Cabazon Mayor Arrested on Morals Charge

AFTER BEING BOOKED BY Riverside County Deputy Sheriffs, Cabazon Mayor L. Dee Tallent and Mrs. Virginia Breitweg are taken to a police car to be returned to the home in North Palm Springs where they were arrested on a morals charge. Tallent made bail of $150 each. Mrs. Breitweg, although a member of the staff of the Cabazon Courier, a weekly newspaper, became very camera shy and turned from The Desert Sun cameraman. Above, deputies Toby Wickham, Ralph Clevesy, and Sgt. Von Hoffman are escorting the pair back to North Palm Springs.

Sheriff's Deputies Given Tip

Cabazon Mayor L. Dee Tallent is out on bail today following his arrest by Riverside County Sheriffs yesterday on charges of violating the county's Rooming House Ordinance.

The 40-year-old mayor was arrested with Mrs. William (Virginia) Breitweg, 37, in the bedroom of a home at Thumb and Keith Streets in North Palm Springs after sheriff's deputies received "a tip from a confidential informer."

FOUR DEPUTIES, Sgt. Von Hoffman, Paul Lewis, Ralph Clevesy and Toby Wickham, raided the little cement brick home in North Palm Springs at 1:40 p.m., and took the two into custody.

Mrs. Breitweg is the wife of a Cabazon police officer and former Palm Springs humane officer William Breitweg.

Deputies watched the home for most of the day and said that Mayor Tallent arrived at the house about 10 a.m. yesterday morning and stayed until 12:30. He left for some 30 minutes and returned shortly after 1 p.m. Mrs. Breitweg arrived at the house about 1:20 and after watching and listening at the windows of the home for some 20 minutes, deputies notified the pair that they were under arrest.

THE ONLY FURNITURE in the house was a icebox and a bed, deputies said.

After being booked into Palm Springs police station, Tallent made bail of $150 each for both himself and Mrs. Breitweg and the two are scheduled to appear before Judge Eugene Theriault next Tuesday at 10 a.m.

The county's Rooming House Ordinance violation is a misdemeanor and carries a maximum sentence of $500 fine and/or 180 days in jail.

President Signs Irrigation Bill

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — President Eisenhower has signed into law a bill providing for construction of an extended irrigation distribution system and drainage works within the Coachella Valley Water District.

The bill, signed Thursday, provides for the broadening of the existing irrigation system to include additional Indian lands in the district.

FAMILY LEAVES HOUSE AFTER 22 FIRES IN 2 DAYS

TALLADEGA, Ala. (UPI) — Calvin Tuck, his wife and six children have moved out of their log home. It caught fire 22 times in two days.

"It's really a mystery," Fire Chief S. H. Joiner said Thursday. "If it's not a chemical reaction or spontaneous combustion, then I don't know what it could be."

Tuck said most of the fires started in the walls of the house, which was wired for electricity and has a metal roof. The interior has been gutted.

County Road Commissioner Leslie R. Hutto, who also investigated, said in his opinion a chemical reaction was to blame. He scraped a knife across the mantle and flames flared up.

"The flames were reddish blue and it looked like sulphur burning," Hutto said.

Hurricane Daisy Moves Away From Mainland

BOSTON (UPI) — Hurricane Daisy veered away from the U.S. mainland today and the Weather Bureau said the threat to New England was virtually over.

At 6 a.m. (p.d.t.), the tropical storm was located about 70 miles south of the resort island of Nantucket and moving northeastward between 25 and 30 miles an hour.

WINDS NEAR THE center had dropped from 125 to 100 miles an hour. Hurricane winds extended 50 miles from the center and gale winds extended out 150 miles. The Weather Bureau predicted heavy seas and surf along the coast but added "except for the offshore waters around Cape Cod the threat of hurricane Daisy is over for New England."

HURRICANE warnings displayed from Provincetown to Block Island, R.I., will be lowered or changed to gale warnings this afternoon, the Weather Bureau advisory said.

Trial Master Takes Colorado River Water Suit Under Advisement

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A small moustachioed New York attorney today took under advisement the Colorado River water suit in the opening of a new chapter of a bitter feud that has troubled the American southwest for half a century.

Simon H. Rifkind, a Russian-born former federal judge who is now a law partner of Adlai Stevenson, must decide how to divide the water of the Colorado's lower basin among five states and the U. S. Government.

AT ONE TIME the battle for precious water in the arid Southwest was waged with Springfield rifles and Colt pistols. But in the past two years it was fought in a quiet San Francisco courtroom by attorneys armed with reams of legal briefs.

The suit was filed by Arizona against California six years ago in the U. S. Supreme Court because the dispute was between states. New Mexico, Nevada, Utah and the U. S. Government also are parties to the case.

One Killed as C47 Military Plane Bellycrashes in Field

BIG SPRINGS, Tex. — (UPI) — A C47 military plane carrying eight passengers crashed just after taking off from Webb Air Force Base early today, killing one of the men in a freakish manner. The other seven escaped serious injury.

Four of the passengers were servicemen who had hitched a ride when the two-engine aircraft left Hill Air Force Base at Ogden, Utah on a cross-country training flight to Kelly Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex.

THE MAN KILLED was a hitchhiker whose name has not been released. He died almost instantly when one of the propellers bent back, penetrated the fuselage under his seat and cut him as the plane bellycrashed in a field of grain stubble about three miles south of the base.

The pilot, Maj. Riggs M. Tucker, said he had to make the belly landing when one of the propellers went out of control and started rotating too fast.

CAPT. ALLEN R. Robertson, public information officer at Webb AFB, said the pilot made such a good landing in the field that only the landing gear was sheared off. The rest of the plane remained relatively intact, he said.

The plane had refueled here and had just taken off when the accident occurred.

The other crew members, all from Hill AFB, were identified as Navy Lt. Arthur S. Schoffman, the pilot; Capt. Alvin E. Rickers, the navigator, and Airman 2C Larry J. Bowden, the crew chief. The other three hitchhikers were identified as Army Pfc M. R. Morlander, Fort Campbell, Ky.; Navy Quartermaster 2C Carroll T. Boyles of California, and Army Specialist 1C John C. Brown Jr.

Warren Delays Signing Bills On Integration

SCHOOL MAY Open Prior to Court Decision

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (UPI) — Gov. Orval Faubus appeared today to have maneuvered the U.S. Supreme Court into a spot where it may not decide on integration in Little Rock's Central High until after the school has opened with white students only.

A special session of the Arkansas Legislature was set to recess today after voting Faubus personal power to close Central if it is faced with Negro integration.

THE LAWMAKERS also passed a bill delaying Central's opening until Sept. 15. Chief Justice Earl Warren announced late Thursday the Supreme Court would meet again Sept. 11 for a full hearing on the integration crisis in Little Rock.

But Faubus signed neither bill into law. And it appeared he might delay doing so indefinitely which is possible so long as the Legislature is technically still in special session.

"UNTIL I SIGN the bill which provides for the opening of the school on Sept. 15, the school opening will be in the hands of the school board," Faubus told a press conference.

"You can ask them when school will open."

The school board already has announced Little Rock schools will open on Sept. 8, three days before the next Supreme Court hearing.

Norfolk Board to Enroll 17 Negroes in White Schools

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The Norfolk School Board announced today it will enroll 17 Negroes in six white schools Sept. 8.

The decision was reached despite a state law that would require that any integrated public schools be closed immediately.

The School Board advised Federal Judge Walter E. Hoffman it would comply with court orders to start integration in schools here.

Charlottesville and Arlington are other Virginia cities faced with similar orders.

ENROLLMENT OF Negroes apparently will close all three of Norfolk's high schools and all three of its junior high schools. Total enrollment in the six schools is more than 10,000 students.

It is the first time in Virginia history that a school board has approved the mixing of races in public schools.

School Board Chairman Paul G. Schweitzer read the board's seven-page report before a packed courtroom.

SCHWEITZER SAID the School Board decision was "in compliance" with the instructions of Judge Hoffman to the board last Monday. Hoffman had ordered the board to reconsider its Aug. 18 rejection of 151 Negro applications for white schools.

Area Architects Invited to Apply For College Job

Resort area architects were today invited to participate in a screening process aimed at selection of designers for the new desert area junior college.

Coachella Valley Junior College District trustees invited architects to contact the college office at Palm Desert to arrange for interviews by the board.

Trustees who are now interviewing an average of two architects a week, set Sept. 15 as the deadline for prospective college architects.

Last night, the board of trustees heard presentations by the Dewey Harnish Architectural firm, of Ontario, and Albert Martin and Associates, of Los Angeles.

Architects wishing to set interview dates with the board were asked to write Gail Brumwell, district administrative assistant, at the Palm Desert office of the Coachella Valley Junior College District.

Driver Injured In Car Accident

A resort area motorist suffered minor injuries this morning when his car apparently went out of control and slammed into a power pole at El Alameda and North Indian Avenue.

Treated at Desert Hospital for contusions and scratches was Willie Precy Phillips, 23, of 63-801 Rio del Sol Road.

Russia Claims Dogs Returned Safely to Earth claimed today to have brought two dogs safely back to earth from a super-stratosphere rocket.

A Moscow Radio broadcast said the animals were rocketed to a height of about 280 miles Aug. 27.

The Soviet broadcast claimed the one-stage rocket landed "in a precisely allocated sector."

The rocket was launched by Soviet Russia "in accordance with the IGY program," Moscow Radio said.

It said that apparatus for the study of the upper layers of the atmosphere also was installed in the rocket.

The Soviets have previously reported recovering rocketed dogs in preparation for the dog-carrying Sputnik.

Business Census Scheduled for Early September

Census takers will visit a number of local business establishments during the first ten days of September to collect information on retail sales for use in compiling national figures for the U. S. Census Bureau's monthly retail trade report. It was announced today by Supervisor Leonard C. Isley of the Bureau's regional office in Los Angeles, which will participate in the survey.

Approximately 7,800 retail stores across the Nation are visited each month by census takers who collect figures on dollar volume of retail sales by kind of business. This information is combined with similar facts collected by mail from another 13,000 retailers, covering approximately 100,000 stores, to provide the basis for estimating the national totals.

The national figures on retail sales presented each month in the Census Bureau's monthly retail trade report are used widely by businessmen and government officials as a business barometer. The report presents sales of the following types of retail stores: Food; eating and drinking places; general merchandise; apparel; furniture and appliances; lumber, building and hardware; automotive; gasoline service stations; liquor stores; and other kinds of retail business.

Information from local retail stores will be collected by Mrs. Frances L. Meisch.

Indio Requests Safe Route for School Students

Need of a paved walk or roadway to furnish Indio High School students with a safe travel route was stressed Monday by Dr. John T. Shea, superintendent of the Coachella Valley Union High School.

Dr. Shea said the joint union high school district directors and administrators of the C. V. Union High School suggest extension of Date Avenue in Indio beyond Monroe Avenue westerly to Highway 111 near the southeast corner of the new Indio High School property.

At the request of Supervisor George Berkey the matter was referred to the road department for study and a report to the board next week.

Idyllwild Zoning Violation Charged

Charges that W. J. Bollman is carrying on a furniture sales business on property on Circle Drive near Fir Street in Idyllwild in an R-3 general residential zone were made to the Board of Supervisors Monday by Frances Monahan and Christine Ramsey who own property nearby.

The protest was referred to the county planning commission for study and report. According to the complaint Bollman recently purchased the property.

LT. CARL E. STEINGEBE

Lt. Steingebe of Palm Springs at Spencer Air Base

Second Lieutenant Carl E. Steingebe, son of Carl E. Steingebe of 425 North Palm Canyon Drive, has completed training in the Air Force Officer Pre-Flight School at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, and will be assigned to Spence Air Base, Ga., for initial flying training as a pilot.

Lt. Steingebe is a graduate of Bellarmine Jefferson High School in Burbank, and attended Glendale College. He was employed by Carobad Corporation prior to entering the Air Force.

Completion of Lackland's pre-flight training school qualifies officer students for their flying training and integration into the Air Force flying program. It covers a period when many of them are making a transition from civilian to military life.

Legion to Hold First Regular Meeting Tuesday

On Tuesday evening September 2 at 8 p.m., Owen Coffman Post No. 519 American Legion will hold its first fall regular meeting at the Legion Memorial Building.

The Palm Springs Legion Post will be visited by the 21st District Commander Lloyd Higginson and staff from Perris, on his official itinerary, Commander Al Patane of the local post announced.

"These official visits are scheduled in order that the District Commander may personally inspect and report our local operations. Owen Coffman Post welcomes this visit and requests as many members as possible to attend," Patane said.

Anza Wants Own Road District

A request by Anza Grange No. 788 that the Anza area be taken from the Idyllwild road district and put into a road district of its own, was referred by the Board of Supervisors Monday to the road department for study and a report within 30 days.

The Grange members said they believe they are being discriminated against insofar as road maintenance is concerned. They said they are entitled to more consideration than they are getting as a part of the Idyllwild district.

Hemet Refuses to Sell Dump Site

Board of Supervisors have referred to the administrative officer a letter from Paul E. Wilcox, Hemet city manager, saying that the city believes it "unwise" to sell to the county at this time the property now leased to the county as a county-operated city-county cut and fill dumpsite.

Disturbed over accusations by the city of improper operation of the dump, the county recently sought to buy the property.

Quiz Show Investigation Turnsto 'Twenty-One' Today

torney Fank Hogan said he would question today the producers of the big money TV quiz show "Twenty-One" and the former contestant who charges he was fed answers.

The show's producers, Jack Barry and Dan Enright, said Thursday night they would "present documentary evidence" showing charges by former contestant Herbert Stempel are "entirely spurious and malicious." They said the evidence will include "statements by Stempel."

HOGAN, WHO IS investigating two yet-unnamed-quiz shows besides "Twenty-One" and the defunct show "Dotto," said he would question about a dozen persons today about charges of rigging.

Hogan said Thursday he has not found any evidence that would require grand jury action. He said there did not appear to be any law against fixing a quiz show unless it could be shown the sponsor had been defrauded.

"I don't think the people viewing have any basis to lodge a complaint under the penal law although they have a right to be angry," he said.

HOGAN SAID IF it proves to be true some shows were fixed "it might be proper to recommend legislation or to send the matter to the Federal Communications Commission."

The National Broadcasting Company, which carries "Twenty-One" said Thursday night the charges made by Stempel "first came to our attention over a year ago."

"At that time we made an investigation and found them (the charges) to be utterly baseless and untrue," NBC said. "We are completely convinced of the integrity of 'Twenty-One' as a program and of the integrity of its producers, Barry and Enright."

STEMPEL WON $60,000 on the program before he lost to Charles Van Doren, who went on to win $129,000 before he was unseated by Vivian Nearing. Van Doren said he never had any reason to doubt the integrity of the show.

Stempel was questioned for about three hours Thursday by Assistant District Attorney Joseph Stone. Stone said afterward "a lot of important people are involved here."

Stone said much of the investigation today would concern charges against "Dotto," which was dropped from both NBC and CBS by the Colgate-Palmolive Company after former contestant Edward Hilgemeler Jr., charged he saw a successful lady contestant reading a notebook containing answers to the questions.

India Plans New Census in 1961

NEW DELHI, India (UPI) — India, second only to Communist China in population, is appointing census officials for the staggering task of a census count in 1961.

The last count taken in 1951 reported 356,829,485 persons in India. Officials expect the population will be over 400,000,000 by 1961.

PALM SPRINGS REALTORS OPEN FIGHT ON PROP. 17

"Proposition No. 17 is one of the most damaging schemes ever attempted in California and the California Real Estate Association will use every resource at its command to help defeat it," local board President Ernie Dunlevie declared today.

In announcing the association's unanimous stand against the November ballot measure, Dunlevie said, "Every Californian must be warned that this tax-tampering initiative threatens to impose even higher taxes on the already overburdened property owner."

He explained that state officials have pointed out that by reducing the state sales tax from 3 percent to 2 percent, Proposition No. 17 would reduce revenue drastically and that other taxes would have to be imposed to make up the deficit.

"The legislature already has the authority to impose a state property tax and may have to resort to it if Proposition No. 17 should pass. This would affect all property owners and renters as well," Dunlevie said.

Vacation Bible School to Close Session Tonight

A closing program held at the American Legion Hall, tonight at 7:30 p.m. will bring to a climax the activities of the Vacation Bible School of Our Savior's Lutheran Church. Children will give a demonstration of the Bible knowledge and Christian training they have received each morning during the past two weeks. Those who have faithfully attended will receive a certificate of recognition from Rev. Reuning, Pastor of the church.

Fifty-two children were registered and attended sessions. Since Our Savior's is now constructing its first Church Unit, on Ramon Road and Caballeros, the Vacation Bible School was held under some difficulties at a private home.

Compulsory Auto Insurance Law Must Be Strengthened

It will come as a shock to most conscientious and law abiding citizens to learn that one seventh of the automobile owners and drivers of California are not complying with the so-called compulsory State Auto Insurance Act.

This means that of the millions of car owners and operators in California, some hundreds of thousands are driving on the public highways without adequate insurance protection to cover losses and damage in the event they become involved in a collision or serious accident.

Statistics show that a preponderant percentage of these uninsured drivers are without sufficient personal property or financial means to levy upon for collection of damages if and when found at fault in a collision, which is the very thing the Insurance Act was designed to prevent.

This situation should not be allowed to continue.

Three things are patent to bring about correction and complete compliance.

First, the law must be strengthened and all evasive features eliminated to require absolute compliance with the full force of proper penalties if disobeyed.

Second, a positive checking system must be established to make certain that before either automobile or drivers' licenses are issued the person involved has first met the minimum insurance requirements.

Third, a definite policy of drastic law enforcement should be established throughout all existing policing agencies for the effective purpose of eliminating every uninsured vehicle or operator from the highways.

Because of the growing numbers of motorists who are failing to comply with the Auto Insurance Act, a State legislative committee is currently holding investigative hearings on the problem. It is to be hoped that their findings and recommendations to the law makers of California will result in the adoption of such positive and effective amendments to the law at the next legislative session.

Not even one uninsured car or driver should be permitted to use the highways of California at the imminent risk of destroying the property and even the lives of our law abiding citizens.

Surrender of the Mind

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Senator Leverett Saltonstall (R. Mass.) is too sober-sided to shine at the art of making phrases, but the other day on the Senate floor he came up with one that covers a multitude of sinning in our times.

The phrase is "psycho-surrender." It describes the gluttony for self-punishment which a number of otherwise rational men are visiting upon themselves and the country in an over-zealous effort to wake up one. One of the men, since I am less delicate about such things than Mr. Saltonstall cares to be, is the other Massachusetts Senator — Jack Kennedy (D).

Not long ago Mr. Kennedy made one of those hair-raising addresses which picture the U. S. as the military underdog of the mid-1960's when the gap of Russian supremacy will be too broad for closing. Neither the material nor the viewpoint is at all new, and it cannot reasonably be charged that Mr. Kennedy et al., have been intentionally preaching defeatism.

Nevertheless, the cumulative effect of feeding the country on fear, and of showing the Russians as putative masters of a cringing world, could be the opposite of what the toxin-sounders are trying to achieve. They are trying to arouse the country to assert its former supremacy as a weapons-maker. But the danger is that by holding up the image of hopelessness, and by invoking the inferiority complex lurking within all sensitive natures, the Democratic crisis-makers are committing "psycho-surrender." They are conditioning their countrymen to roll over and give up.

Very few sins are cured by going to the other extreme by going to atonement. The philandering husband need not take the veil of celibacy; all he should do is stay home. Thus Mr. Saltonstall in denouncing the doctrine of despair was careful not to preach anything like complacency about our military posture. It is all too true, as many Senators and writers have said, that the Russians outnumber us in soldiers, jet planes, submarines and scientists. They outpace us in the development of certain new missiles. They work much harder at almost everything that we do.

Soft living and softer thinking have not fitted us for this struggle. Nobody with good sense can any longer snap his fingers at the Russian threat or can doubt that a showdown of strength is inevitable. But to say all this—and to say no more than this—is "psycho-surrender."

The "more," as given by Mr. Saltonstall, includes some impressive facts which the calamity-howlers seldom bother to recite. Senator Saltonstall noted that our present military strength is sufficient for its stated purpose — that of deterrence. Looking into the future, and speaking as the ranking Republican of the Senate Armed Services Committee, he pointed out some very hopeful landmarks amid the encircling gloom. These included an intermediate range ballistic missile in actual production, an intercontinental missile which has a proved capability of going into space and re-entering with a war head in its nose cone, a clear superiority nuclear-powered Navy vessels, three sky-riding satellites which are not nearly so big but are "better instrumented, scientifically" than those of Russia, military mobility that is superior, "the most modern manned aircraft in the world," atomic artillery and depth charges that are probably unmatched, excellent anti-missile missiles both in being and in development.

This list represents a military prognosis that is far from hopelessness. How, then, do the calamity-howlers make their point? In some notable instances they have used a system of extrapolation which minimizes the American effort and maximizes the Soviet effort. Mr. Saltonstall, in private, has cited the example of a 1956 prediction. It was then forecast by some of these same Democrats that in 1958 the Soviets would have three times as many Bisons as we have B-52's. The actual figures are classified, but they are pretty close to being an exact reversal of that forecast. We are probably twice as strong in heavy bombers as the Russians.

The dark prediction of the present hour is that by 1964 the Russians will have 2,000 ICBM's while we will have only 130. These figures are obtained by crediting Russia with the highest possible production, while assuming that our prototype models will never be mass produced. To make such assumptions is to prepare the American mind for inevitable defeat. It is the preaching of failure and disaster. Those who are practicing it, no matter how good their intentions, ought to cut it out—right now. —Holmes Alexander

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: Whoever told you that a STOCKADE PRISONER could write to his sweetheart has never been in the U. S. ARMY stockade. I've been in stockade many times and they only let me write one letter a week, and it had to be to my next of kin. Please correct yourself, Abby, so that poor guy in stockade can square himself with his sweetheart.

OLD STOCKADER: There have been some changes made! On Sept. 24, 1957 under Regulation 633-5 the U. S. Army stockade prisoner is permitted to write as many letters as he wishes, to whomever he chooses — and it says in very small print "barring circumstances that could threaten the national security."

DEAR ABBY: I am so ashamed of myself I don't know what to do. I went out with a wonderful fellow and we clicked right away. I wanted so much for him to ask me out again that I gave him everything he wanted on our first date. I think he lost respect for me because he hasn't called me up since. How can I let him know I really fell for him and don't act like that with every fellow I meet?

A SORRY GIRL: DEAR SORRY: Chalk this one up to experience, Honey. Your chances for a fresh start with this Romeo are small, but next time you fall for a fellow and want to see him again—don't lose the key to the control room.

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I fell in love with, and married a divorced man. He had two boys, ages 8 and 10, and his wife took them. His ex-wife is getting married again but the man she is marrying doesn't want to raise her boys so she thinks she can palm them off on me. My husband wants the boys but why should I tie myself down with another woman's children? I like to get around, too. My husband and I are on the verge of separating over this. Don't you think children should be raised by their OWN mother and not a stepmother?

UPSET: DEAR UPSET: Children should be raised by someone who wants them. Many stepmothers have made better mothers than "real" mothers. If neither you nor the children's mother wants them, they could probably find more love in a foster home. You are both disgustingly selfish.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that when a woman marries a man older than herself nobody thinks anything of it, but when a man marries an older woman everybody raises his eyebrows and has a lot to say on the subject? For twenty-two years I have been married to a woman who is 12 years older than myself. There was a lot of talk and opposition at the time of our marriage. Everyone told me that she would be old before I was, and it wouldn't work out, but we didn't let the ignorance of others influence us. For those who have this problem, take my word for it—it is the PERSON who counts. Age is secondary.

HAPPY HUSBAND: CONFIDENTIAL TO MISSISSIPPI JACK: Nobody considers a bald head a handicap any more. Emphasize your Southern accent and save your money.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, in care of this paper.

Too Many Spigots

This Side of The Sun By Phat

If you think that it is not then you won't think that it is hot.

That's just an idea on how to beat the weather sent in to The Desert Sun by Mrs. Hal Swanston, on vacation in the Midwest, from Boulder Junction, Wisconsin.

SHE ENCLOSED a clipping from the Milwaukee Journal, a good newspaper. I know because I used to sell its predecessor when I was a kid.

Anyway, this article in the Journal says if you want to be cool when the mercury mounts, just envision icy mountain streams, swans gliding serenely on cool lakes (But Hollypark isn't open now) fleecy clouds wafted by balmy breezes.

THINK COOL and you will be, is the substance of the article. That's all to the good. But as I was reading her letter a globe or, let's be genteel, perspiration, rolled down my forehead into my eye.

And, my apologies, I was not thinking cool.

Anyway, if it's some solace, the heat is everywhere, even in that dear old dairyland, Wisconsin.

IF YOU HAVE been wondering where the yellow went, quit. It came back.

Touring the southland's highways I note that in every community they have little pyramids all over the street.

That's where the painters are putting down the yellow stripes at school crossings.

AND IN TWO WEEKS, or less, look out. Those yellow school zones mean something. That's where the kids cross the streets.

Trust you're aren't smart enough to know better yet.

So when you see yellow lines, slow down. One of those kids in the crosswalk may be president some day.

INDICATIONS ARE abundant that the more or less slack summer season is about to fold. The busy fall and winter seasons are at hand.

How do I know? They're ripping up the streets for improvements all over Southern California—even in Palm Springs.

FELLOW WHO ALWAYS notices those things tells me of an error by a department store window decorator. He fixed up a beautiful display of negligees but forgot to change the neat little sign he had placed with his display the week before.

So, with all of the showing of the diaphanous garments was the sign: HUNTING CLOTHES.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Our Siamese cat has been located. After many an anguished day and many an anxious night. This cat's name is Freddy — that is what the children insisted on calling him. I thought it was a poor name for a cat. Sounded like somebody who wore spats and went around saying, "Pip, pip."

The kids thought it was a fine name, however. Maybe it suited him at that. He was a beautiful cat. But one of the most lame-brained animals I ever saw.

Freddy disappeared about three weeks ago. Just wandered off the hillside under the oaks as usual — what he did I never knew. He was too proud to work. Quail used to walk right in front of him.

All it did was remind him to come in and get me to open a can of Dr. Ross.

He wandered off up the hill. And he didn't come back. Heavens-to-Betsy, the dramatics that went on!

"He's probably dead!" "He is not," I said. "He is probably out mousing around some lady cat. If he has that much sense, which I doubt, that cat will come back."

"How can you talk like that? When poor Freddy may be killed!"

There is nothing girl children like better than thinking of the horrors of life.

Poor Freddy was pictured in snow and rain. (It never rains here in the summer and there hasn't been snow in a hundred years. But no matter.)

We pictured him lost and without two sticks to rub together. Mewing pitifully.

Well, it turns out Freddy simply went up the hill and took up with rich neighbors. He took up with them. And when he found the chow coming in regularly, he stayed. The ingrate.

"Naturally, you can take him back," said the lady. "But he seems so happy here."

"What does he like to do?" "We let him sleep on the mantel. He adores sleeping on the mantel."

We have no mantel. What kind of cat is that? The cynical, conniving—well, I won't say it.

Of a whole litter of Siamese, Freddy was the one who was always in trouble. He got locked in cupboards. He had a roaring voice and complained constantly.

When he was learning to drink milk out of the saucer, he was the one who stepped in it and upset it.

Do you think this gave him an unhappy childhood? No, sir. His mother adored him. She polished and simonized him twice as much as the other good little kittens.

That cat had it made. And he made the most of it.

When we gave all the other kittens away, we kept Freddy. The children were afraid the poor stumblebum could not get along in the world.

We kept him and lavished affection and canned cat food on him.

If he sniffed he got vitamins. Nothing was too good for Freddy. And that is the way he felt about it, too.

Without turning a tap of work, without chasing a lizard, this cat led the life of a rich cat. All on my bounty.

And then, for the love of Pete, he has to move out and move in with people so he can sit on a mantel.

I have seen him on the mantel and he looks very decorative. He knows it.

QUOTES

NEW YORK—Gertrude Ederle first woman to swim the English Channel, complaining that the sport now is gone from channel swimming:

"The channel swim today is commercial. In my day it was a sports achievement. Now they endorse products and watches. They say they were able to do it because they ate some cereal of other and they stop in the middle of the channel to hold up their watches and look at the time."

GRIN AND BEAR IT By LICHTY

EARL WILSON:

Crazy Mixed-Up World

NEW YORK — How To Hold Your Husband: The Yankees' no-hit pitcher, Don Larsen, was accompanied to the Stag Barber Shop by his pretty bride, who remained while he got his locks trimmed by shearsman Lucio D. Agostino. My B.W. never went with me to the barber shop!

Reminds me how Herb Shriner, talking of the days in Indiana, used to say "Back home on Saturday nights 'twas nuthin' for us to go down town and watch a few haircuts."

Peter Lind Hayes—whose ABC TV show starts Oct. 6—tells of the drunk who got lost and phoned home for help. "Where are you?" asked his wife. He went and looked, then reported, "I'm right at the corner of Walk and Don't Walk." Carol Channing phoned me from the Las Vegas Tropicana to say the customers demanded her "impersonation" of Grandma Marlene Dietrich and she's put it back in her act. She hopes Marlene—who'd objected — doesn't mind too much.

Roxanne Arlen of "Who Was That Lady?" went to Sardi's with Dress Designer Elgee Bove, one of the best dressed men, who's also bringing out a line. Because he was in shirt sleeves, he was halted and asked to put on a busboy's coat and tie— "usually worn," he was told, "by Tony Perkins." . . . El Rancho Vegas Headwaiter Arturo who feuded with a comedian, says he knows one "so hammy that if he were in a prison break he'd try to have the prison spotlight on him at all times."

The TV Beat and Offbeat: I got a sneak preview of the ZIV "World of Giants" TV show (about a man 6 inches tall) that's either going on or not going on CBS, according to whom you want to believe.

The 6-inch man, a U.S. agent shrunken by rocket rays behind the Iron Curtain and smuggled out, is carried in a briefcase by a normal U.S. agent. To him a cat's as menacing as a leopard; a falling pencil can crush him. Comedian Jack E. Leonard, quite a shrunken man himself, was intrigued with the acting of Marshall Thompson and asked "Who's his tailor?"

Art Carney appeals to all classes. As he walked along midtown a laborer yelled, "Hey, dere, Ed Norton, when ya' gettin' outa 'at sewer?" He walked further and a couple of Back Bay-type dowagers came out of a fancy tie shop. "Mister Carney?" asked one lady elegantly. He nodded, and she softly replied, "We're enchanted by you."

Zsa Zsa Gabor was being interviewed by Jack Eigen in Chicago and declared she didn't want to marry again. "But what if you fell in love?" asked Eigen. "I'd live in sin," flipped Zsa Zsa.

"You understand, ladies and gentlemen," hurriedly spoke up Joey Adams, who's starting with her at the Chez Paree. "Sin is the name of a small town in Hungary."

Copacabana comics Marty Allen and Mitch De Wood claim there's one Broadway type who might be called "the agreeer." He agrees with everything. Sample dialogue:

Agreeer: "That Frankie Laine's one of the nicest guys in show business. I worked with him. He's WONDERFUL!"

Pal: "I hear he's a jerk."

Agreeer (nodding vigorously): "You know, I heard that."

Add "Funny Signs": "Club Hangover." San Francisco: "Frantic Fred's Furniture." Monterey, Cal. . . . At the Coram Memorial Cemetery, Patchogue, L. I.: "Drive safely. We can wait." . . . Ad by a Patchogue real estate broker: "Get lots while you're young." . . . On a 6th Av. health food shop: "No-Cal us. We'll No-Cal you." . . . A Chicago florist named Gosch: "Flowers. . . by Gosch." . . . And Sol Weinstein spotted this on a Trenton, N. J., auto repair shop: "May We Have The Next Dents?"

Panning the Pan Mail: I don't care whether Frank Sinatra could fight as a kid — but the fighting among his pals about it is amusing.

EARL'S PEARLS: "The Taffy Tuttle's diet advice: 'Watch your food. Don't eat it — just watch it.'"

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Sands Finishes

HOLLYWOOD—Tommy Sands finished "Mardi Gras," paid off his five-to-one bet on the Patterson-Harris fight to Pat Boone (a mere five bucks!) and winged to the Windy City for a fast change of planes to Columbus, Ohio, for a two-day personal appearance at the Ohio State Fair. . . . Clean-living Tommy (doesn't drink, smoke or gamble) has never appeared in a nightclub but that's all over, now that he's reached his majority — he was 21 last Wednesday (8-27). Tommy had no personal objection to playing the saloon circuit: it's just that his manager didn't think it tied in with being a teenage idol. But now a deal is being dickered for him to play one of the Las Vegas glitteries this year, followed by Chicago's Chez Paree, New York's Copacabana and all that jazz.

John Raitt, another clean-livin' non-drinker-smoker-gambler, breaks loose and bows on the bistro belt in Reno Oct. 2. . . . An auto smashup tossed Beverly Willis out of Marilyn Monroe's all-girl orchestra in "Some Like It Hot" into a room adjoining her mother's at Mt. Sinai Hospital. Joan is in for a checkup. . . . Erich Maria Remarque's glamorous bride, Paullette Goddard, received a present from her groom — a cookbook. . . . Reminds me: I like the title of the cookbook Mrs. O. C. e. r. Hammerstein is writing—"Flash in the Pan."

MGM bounced Debbie Reynolds off the payroll for turning down the role of the farmer's daughter in "The Darling Buds of May." Debbie took the suspension rather than play the part because (I quote) "I'm tired of playing sweet young things." She wanted the studio to loan her to Stanley Kramer for the co-starring spot opposite Greg Peck and Fred Astaire in the highly dramatic "On the Beach"

Miss Arden sent him some posies with this note: "You're sick-SICK and you can't do anything illegal, immoral or fattening so just smell these." . . . Incidentally, it's Spillville, temporarily at least, for F. v. e.'s stage sidekick, Benay Venuta, and her husband, Fred Clark. The tension of her "Mame" rehearsals and his job in "Mardi Gras" — that's the way Benay, ex-wife of ex-Chicagoan Armand Deutsch of the Rosenwald millions, explains it. And the last I saw of Fred, he had packed up and left home and was sitting poolside at the Garden of Allah working a crossword puzzle.

Business Women in Dinner Meet

Members of the Palm Springs Business and Professional Women's Club met Tuesday evening for dinner at the Palm Springs Biltmore.

Short talks were given by Annette Scrivanie, Jeanne Blair and Betty Luce on subjects pertaining to finance, investment and membership.

La Vaun Belt unveiled a beautiful membership roster board which was donated by Woodcraft of California. Plans were discussed and a committee named for the October 9th dinner meeting which will be co-hosted by the Palm Springs branch of the club, the Desert Club of Cathedral City and the Coachella Valley of Indio, in celebration of National Business Women's Week.

Guest speakers for the event will be Margery Hicks, a third vice president of the State Federation of Business and Professional Women and a first vice president of the Bank of America; Pat Wilson, recently retired Washington correspondent; and Bea Emery of Imperial Beach, who has gained much recognition by raising an unusual type of parakeet at her "Bird Ranch."

Guests at Tuesday's dinner meeting were Hilda Hart and Josephine Kuoy. Members present were June Travers, president; Bernice Jacobson, Eudora Whisenand, La Vaun Belt, Eve Russell, Jeanne Blair, Annette Scrivanie, Betty Luce, Helen Story Audrey Barrett, Mary McGraw, Madge Whitacre and Dorothy Lynch.

The next meeting is scheduled for September 9, 7:30 p.m. at the home of La Vaun Belt, with swimming and refreshments after the business meeting.

Mrs. Lawrence Returns From World Journey

Mrs. Paul William Lawrence of Palm Springs, Bel Air and Lido Isle has returned from her annual trip around the world which took her to Denver, Chicago, Washington, D. C., New York, Montreal, Paris, London, Brussels, Nice, Rome, Istanbul, Tehran, New Delhi, Rangoon, Bangkok, Saigon, Manila, Hong Kong, Taipei, Tokyo, Anchorage, Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

In Paris she was a patroness of the Debutante Ball given at the Palace of Versailles.

Mrs. Lawrence will entertain a small group honoring Mrs. Bruce Anderson (nee Jacqueline White) of Denver, Colorado, who will visit Los Angeles for a few days. Jacqueline was appointed first president of the Ticktocks of the National Charity League in 1941 by Mrs. Lawrence, who was president of the League at that time.

Glendora Family At Whispering Waters Hotel

RANCHO MIRAGE — Enjoying the many activities offered during the summer at Whispering Waters Hotel were recent guests Mr. and Mrs. Marion Alley and son and daughter Bill and Elizabeth who make their home in Glendora. Major and Mrs. David Kline and daughter stopped for a few days enroute to their base in Phoenix, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Nilon were guests at Whispering Waters while supervising the interior at their new home in Silver Spur Ranch.

The high wind a week ago blew a car into the front of their home causing damage that delayed their moving in for a few days. On a flying trip to Buffalo, New York, Mr. and Mrs. William Panow and children of San Diego landed their plane on the Desert Air Strip and enjoyed a few days at Whispering Waters. Also among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Spelling of Hollywood. Mrs. Spelling is Carolyn Jones of TV and pictures.

Nursery Diploma For Miss Scully Given in Hospital

Patricia Ann Scully, daughter of Sir Francis and Lady Alice Scully of 2100 Calle Felicia, Palm Springs, received her bachelors of nursing degree from Mercy College, San Diego, under rather unique conditions.

The day before her graduation she was hospitalized with a badly sprained back and so her diploma was handed to her while she was a patient at Mercy Hospital. Within a week, however, she was out of traction and supported by a special orthopedic brace, flew to San Francisco with several of her classmates to take their state board examinations.

On Tuesday night approximately twenty five members of the Mutual Improvement Association of the Church of Latter Day Saints met at Whitewater for a bit of fishing and a watermelon feast. Superintendent Eldon Pack was in charge of arrangements.

Villagers Having Big Time on Islands

According to reports, vacationing Villagers feel right at home in the Islands, there are so many of them there at present.

A trio that are having a great time are Marie Belyea, Leona Inman and Marj Pohl. Before they leave for home via San Francisco the early part of September aboard the SS Monterey they plan a trip of the surrounding islands.

Chicken Liver Rolls a Treat

For a company dinner, try these chicken liver rolls. Fry 1/2 pound of bacon until crisp. Saute 1 pound of chicken livers in 4 tablespoons of butter or margarine until just cooked through. Add salt and pepper to taste. Chop the livers rather coarsely and combine with the bacon, which has been drained and crumbled. Add 1/2 cup finely chopped onions and 1/4 cup chopped parsley. Spread between cut halves of tiny rolls or croissants and heat.

Cook covered, about 30 minutes, or until vegetables are very tender. Strain through a sieve, pushing as much of the vegetable bulk through as possible. Just before serving stir 1/3 cup heavy cream into the hot or cold soup.

Murphys and Hendersons Back Home

Dining at Sheppards restaurant on Highway 99 were a foursome from Palm Springs, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Henderson.

The Murphys who have been spending the summer at Lake Tahoe in their beautiful new home purchased this summer, plan to spend a few days here before returning to Lake Tahoe. They will be back the latter part of September and in December have planned a round the world trip.

The Hendersons recently returned home after a two month cruise in the South Pacific.

Among a few of the Palm Springers who are either vacationing at Lake Tahoe or just passing through and stopped by to visit the Murphys were Bertha and Ed Robbins, Vicki and Billie Malouf, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Robinson (he is the ex-mayor of San Francisco and they have spent considerable time in the Village), Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Esenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Manasse and the Barney Hinkles.

Leo Wiswell is Honor Guest at Surprise Party

Friends walked in on a most surprised Leo Wiswell, at his home on Mabrey Road, laden with gifts and a beautifully decorated and candle birthday cake. Aiding and abetting in the successful party were his wife, Lou Ruth, daughters Eleanor and Carolyn and Messers and Mmes: Dean Gilchrist, Clyde Crow, G. Stanley Smith, Stanley Webb, W. P. Wilson, Lester Fannin, and Mmes. Golda Manley, Murval Pack, Lois Payne, Rita Rasmussen, and Betty Ekins. Also Levan Myler, Elsworth Tribbett, and Lewis Tanner.

Back in Village From Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Magginni returned Monday from a three week vacation. They spent a week fishing at Virginia Lakes in the High Sierras and a week at Lake Tahoe before visiting with friends in Oakland and Stockton. The Magginnis are starting their tenth season in Palm Springs.

Antique Display Set for October

The Swiss Exhibition of Antiques, one of the largest in the world, will take place at the Bellevue Palace Hotel, Berne, Switzerland, from October 18 to 26 it was reported by Jost Schmid, manager of the Bellevue Palace Hotel, that this exhibit will be one of the biggest ever held. He added that insurance for the displayed items is expected to be over 5,000,000 Swiss francs.

Cathedral City

By JEAN PATANE

After an absence of six weeks Mrs. R. T. Hagen and son Jim are back at their Cathedral City home.

Mr. Hagen joined them four weeks ago at the home of her father Mr. W. J. Warner in Medford, Oregon, and visited friends and relatives before they left for Sun Valley, Idaho where they visited with desert winter residents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Walsh, and experienced some good fishing. They spent a few days in Twin Falls and Boise and were houseguests of her sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Becker in Caldwell, Idaho.

While there Mr. Hagen and Mr. Becker and their sons Jim and Joel took a guide and went on a four day pack trip into the Seven Devils country. Leaving Caldwell they went to Lake Tahoe and from there to Sardine Lake in the High Sierras to spend a few days with her daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ingraham and their young son Rick. They then went to June Lake for more fishing before returning to the desert Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Down are back at "The Shoe Tree" following a busy week in Santa Barbara and Pacific Grove. In Santa Barbara they visited with their daughter and son-in-law Ron and Janice Rulofson before going to Pacific Grove where John taught at the High School and at the University of California for twenty years before moving to the desert. Then to Hayward to see friends, and Mrs. Down's brother Roy Parker and family. He is athletic coach at San Lorenzo High School. Enroute home they visited friends in Los Gatos, stopped at the home of his sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Oeser in Chowchilla, returning to their home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Danchak, he is manager of the Mayfair Meat Dept., are enjoying a three week vacation at Oceanside and Pine Cove.

Linda McManaman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald McManaman is spending this week at Balboa with the Joe Henderson family of Palm Springs.

Private and Mrs. Gerald Smith last week spent a three day leave, from Fort Huachuca where he is stationed, with his sister and family Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bentley. Over the weekend Mr. and Mrs. Bentley and daughter Carol drove into Los Angeles to the home of his mother Mrs. Marie Bentley where Carol will spend the remainder of the school vacation with her grandmother.

SUNAIR

By JEAN PATANE

While Mrs. Joseph Illig is in Los Angeles visiting with their sons Joseph, Victor and Edward and their families, Mr. Illig will spend some time fishing at Lake Arrowhead, where he has been going for quite a few years. Mr. and Mrs. Illig own the Palo Verde Apartments, which they plan to open for another season early in October.

Pioneer residents Mr. and Mrs. Willard R. "Bill" Hillery returned last week from Long Beach where they attended the "Sourdough" convention. Before moving to the desert Mr. Hillery lived in Alaska.

Gardening in the Desert

The weather we've been enjoying(?) these last three months has certainly not been conducive to diligent gardening. Most of the amateur gardeners have languidly accomplished all that is really necessary to keep their plants alive until late September when the changing weather will bring forth the old zest and fervor that will result in plantings that will eventually be his pride and joy—we hope.

The newcomer, who has to start from scratch, has a lot of hard work ahead of him. To him will come the back-breaking chores of preparing the sandy soil, digging out the debris and fertilizing the soil. In previous editions of the daily Desert Sun we have explained the method by which he can best accomplish this. We can assure him it will not be an easy accomplishment. If in four years he has a garden and lawn that he and his best friends can look on with great pride he has accomplished something that few amateurs can boast of.

Among the plants that we have not yet mentioned is the Yellow Oleander. Thevetia Nereifolia, its horticultural name, has foliage similar to dwarf bamboo. It is not as hardy as the everyday Oleander, but should be rooted in soil that is similar to the soil in which the latter is planted. To protect it from cold soil and peatmoss (damp) should be piled around the trunk in freezing or near freezing weather. From summer until after Christmas its showy yellow trumpet flower will more than repay the money and time spent on its growth.

A flower that seems to be losing its popularity somewhat but one that is still worthy of note is the Periwinkle. Better known around the desert as Vinca it is easy to handle. It comes in several colors, is often planted in long narrow beds between a walk and the building. It grows fast and blooms first year, is inexpensive and may be obtained at local nurseries in three colors: lavender, white, and rose, each with red center. Whether planted in sun or shade makes little difference, but don't stint the water if you want abundant growth.

The common Oleander (Nerium Oleander) may be seen in almost every garden and street in the occupied desert. It is officially credited with blooming from May to November but we have noted blooms in almost every month in the year. It may be seen as decorating high walls, doing duty as a thick hedge, and accomplishing the chores of a good wind-break. It seems not to be hungry; requires little fertilizer, but once a year requires bone meal. It grows as high as 20 feet but should be pruned to the height that is best suited to the general appearance of its surroundings. If you are not rushed for time it may be grown from slips but large bushes can easily be transplanted. Changes in weather or dry periods seem to make little difference in its growth but it should have a maximum of sunshine. Aphids seem to consider oleander a good feeding ground but, in most instances these may be washed off the plant with a strong hose spray. However, should they continue to be a nuisance a monthly spray of nicotine sulphate will eliminate these pests.

Wood Panel Walls Conceal So Many Things

Just like aladdin's lamp. That's what housewives say about modern, wood paneled walls. They conceal so many things.

Every housewife wants a home with individuality and charm. She wants to choose her own decor and accessories. Whether contemporary or traditional, she wants a home that has warmth, comfort and friendliness.

Wood-paneled walls take a long step in this direction, especially when those delightfully beautiful western woods, Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and western red cedar, are used.

Wood paneling creates unusual areas for built-ins and for exciting storage possibilities. You can tailor these walls and built-ins to suit the space available.

Listen to this list of wall storage ideas when you use wood. You can have music walls containing TV, hi-fi, and record storage concealed behind cleverly designed wall panels that don't even show if the doors are made of the same paneling.

You can have refreshment bars concealed behind wall paneling when they're not in use. You can build in storage in living and family rooms for toys, games, books, and for trophies and objects d'art. Wall storage in halls and bedrooms can accommodate linens, household machines and tools.

Of course, kitchen and dining room offer an amazing variety of storage ideas so that you can put entire walls to use. Yes, wood paneled walls are certainly just like Aladdin's lamp.

Outdoor Closet Boon to Desert Yard, Garden Fan

An outdoor closet, attached to the garage or house, can make gardening and yard work more pleasant in the desert because it places the tools and appliances within easy access.

In the closet, protected by doors that lock, can be not only the gardener's tools but even a shelf for his use in potting plants and similar activities. A concrete floor and runway for the wheelbarrow, lawn roller, mower, seed spreader and similar equipment are "extras" that are worth the small additional cost.

A "must" in the outdoor closet are interior walls of Masonite Peg-Board, the versatile panels with the numerous holes into which fit matching metal fixtures to hold storage items. Because of the heavy equipment stored in such a closet, these perforated hardboard panels should be the heavy-duty, quarter-inch thickness.

On them can be suspended such weighty appliances as a power mower, a lawn roller and even an outboard motor—not that it's gardening equipment! Fixtures, some of them especially designed for hanging garden tools, make the heavier panels.

For the exterior, the home owner could choose one of the Masonite sidings, any of which will look well with its surroundings. Among the headboards available are a grooved siding, one with linear ridges, another with a combination of the grooves and ridges plus lap siding and panels which may be installed with battens over their joints. All are weather-proof and resistant to impact and abrasion. All may be painted and painted for long-lasting finishes. All may be obtained from lumber dealers with a factory-applied paint primer, if desired.

Some families, seeking a storage spot for their children's toys, may want to build an outdoor closet along these lines especially for that purpose. It would be somewhat larger because of the wagons, tricycles and bicycles involved, but the construction principles and ideas remain the same.

Families Seeking Inflation Hedge Buying Homes

Better than stocks or bonds, or even bank savings, buying a home is the only "inflation proof" investment available to the average man today.

"The home you pay $16,000 for today," says H. V. Simpson, executive head of West Coast Lumbermen's Association, "may well be worth $25,000 when you finish paying for the mortgage 15 or 20 years from now."

At the current rate of inflation, Simpson said, almost everything we buy is going up at the rate of about 1 per cent every four months. The price tag on a home, and most other commodities, is two and one-half times what it was in 1941, he said. A home that sold for $10,000 then, today will demand $25,000.

Certain types of home styles, Simpson warned, retain their selling appeal through the years. Homes designed with wood-sided exteriors are by far the most popular, the building expert points out. People identify comfortable living with homes sided in attractive, well-textured woods like western red cedar or west coast hemlock.

By far the best selling homes, Simpson advised, are those which make liberal use of wood paneling, built-ins and cabinets inside the home. The largest majority, nearly 95 per cent of all women,

Children's Room Needs Charm

Too many parents have been neglecting the junior members of the family in their impressionable early years, one leading psychologist avers.

They tuck them away in drab and dreary rooms, he said, and then wonder why they have constant problems of keeping the youngsters home and happy.

Living areas have a great influence on children's lives, the psychologist advises. In planning young folks' rooms, parents should make sure they are well laid out with proper space for clothes, books, and collections and hobbies.

They should also give some attention to beauty and color and special tastes of the individual child. It is easy to design a room that will take the rugged abuse of growing children, yet will have graceful loveliness during those growing years.

Wood paneling, especially some of the more durable softwoods such as west coast hemlock and Douglas fir, give elegance and charm to a room. The same woods can be used for built-ins, shelving, desks, bunk beds, and wardrobes. Finished in clear lacquers, they have beauty and ease of maintenance and arouse in the child pride of ownership.

want kitchens finished in popular woods. One of the most beautiful of the woods for all manner of interior usage is Douglas fir, he advised, with west coast hemlock and western red cedar running close seconds.

L.A. County Fair to Have Largest Commercial Show

POMONA — The largest strictly commercial exhibit in the history of Los Angeles County Fair will be on display in the big general exhibits building for the 17 day run, Sept. 12 - 23, according to Virgil Jackson, department head.

Constructed solely of masonry materials, the exhibit is sponsored by the Masonry Research Fund, an organization of Los Angeles and Pasadena masonry contractors and bricklayer and stonemason unions.

A 13-foot-high arch of bricks is the main attraction. Sitting on foundations of three-foot-thick cement pads, the unsupported arch spans a distance of 50 feet. More than 3,000 square feet of floor space is used in the total construction.

Designed to show future home builders and decorators the practicality and beauty of masonry materials, the huge display utilizes brick, glass block, concrete block, structural glazed tile, ceramic veneer, stone and glazed tile in various ornate patterns.

"The purpose of the exhibit is to show masonry products, and to point out that the oldest type of materials used in building are still the finest," said Ryan M. O'Brien, Masonry Research Fund director. More than 25 men will work on the project for an estimated 30 days he said.

Other attractions at the "world's largest county fair" include an absorbing home show

Desert Hot Springs Wins Way Into Softball Finals

INDIAN WELLS GOLF Pro Eddie Susalla, left, discusses two current club programs with greens superintendent Harvey Hardin — construction of the new Indian Wells clubhouse and opening of the club's first golf tournament of the season. The tourney, a "welcome home choose-up" for returning resort residents, opens Saturday and ends Monday after 54 holes. Construction of the new clubhouse, which will be set on an elevated area pictured in the background here, gets under way Sept. 1 and should be ready for members by mid-season, Susalla said. (Sun Photo).

To Meet Biltmore Tuesday

Desert Hot Springs, which finished fourth in Desert Softball League play, will meet Biltmore, which finished first, in the finals of the annual play-off Tuesday night at the Polo Grounds. The DHS team barged into the finals by defeating the Mexican Colony for the second time Thursday night by a score of 2 to 1.

The DHS Mhoon and Mhoon team scored two runs in the fifth inning and then staved off a three hit Colony rally in the sixth to take the game.

THE GAME was another pitchers' duel, this time between Floyd Browers of the victors and Frank Prieto of the Mexican Colony nine.

No player got a hit until Paul Neilsen singled for DHS in the bottom of the fifth inning with one out. Mark Hopp then got on on a fielder's choice with Neilsen being forced out at second. With two away Chet Grebner walked. Then Jack Kean who has now got five hits for six times at bat in the playoffs tripled and two runs scored. Prieto put the fire out when Warren Day grounded out.

IN THE SIXTH the Colony came back on Oscar Prieto's triple and singles by Davy Martinez and Victor Reyes. Prieto scored, but Bowers got Pete Herrera to strike out and Prieto grounded out.

The Colony got a man on second in the seventh, but Browers bared down to retire the side. Unlike the previous night's game when Neal Green struck out 29 and Bill Tichenor fanned 14 strikeouts weren't the rule. Browers fanned seven while Prieto failed to strike out a man.

THERE WAS PLENTY of work for the outfielders with lots of long hits and the fielding was superior. There was only one error committed.

The score: Mexican Colony 1...3...0 DHS Mhoon&Mhoon ... 2 2 1

Seixas, Olmeda To Clash Today

RYE, N. Y. — (UPI) — Veteran Vic Seixas of Philadelphia meets Alex Olmedo of Peru in a semi-final match today in the Westchester Challenge Bowl tennis tournament.

Seixas, displaying some of his old-time form, defeated Kurt Nielsen of Denmark, 61, 12-10, Thursday in a preview of their Saturday match in the opening round of the National singles at Forest Hills, N. Y.

Now It's Bucs' Turn to Take on Surging Braves

By TIM MORIARTY

United Press International

With the San Francisco Giants packed away in cold storage, the Braves flew back to Milwaukee today fully confident of shutting the same freezer door on the Pittsburgh Pirates this week end.

The "icemen" from Milwaukee just about eliminated the Giants from the pennant race during their latest hop to the West Coast. —winning four of five games, including a 3-0 victory in Thursday's only major league game.

Now it's the Pirates' turn to "fish or cut bait." They open a three-game set at Milwaukee tonight, trailing the defending National League champions by 7 1/2 games. So they must shoot for a sweep because, like the Giants, time is running out on Danny Murtaugh's upstarts.

DEL CRANDALL, Red Schoendienst and Bob Rush got the job done Thursday for Milwaukee. Crandall figured in two runs, Schoendienst collected four of the Braves' six hits off Johnny Antonelli and Rush scattered 10 hits in posting his second shutout of the season.

The Giants looked futile in defeat, stranding 11 after getting men aboard in every inning. They presented Milwaukee with its first run in the fifth inning when Crandall walked, stole second and raced all the way home on errors by catcher Bob Schmidt and center fielder Willie Mays.

Schoendienst doubled home the Braves' second run in the sixth, and Antonelli walked Crandall with the bases loaded in the eighth to force across Milwaukee's final marker.

ERNE DUNLEVIE, Oilman Ray Ryan's partner in the development of 1000-acre Bermuda Dunes, proudly points to map showing golf course homesites that have already been purchased in the new Palm Springs area residential community. Dunlevie announced that noted golf course architect William F. Bell had started grassing the 18-hole championship links, destined to be one of the nation's finest because of its imaginatively challenging sand dune contours. Dunlevie said applications for membership in Bermuda Dunes Country Club have been unusually heavy, but that none will be issued until the course is ready for play early in December. A mammoth outdoor barbecue on the shores of Lake Bermuda is being planned by Dunlevie and Ryan to mark the grand opening of the links. (Gayle Studio Photo).

ELLIOTT TO TAKE REST

GOTHENBURG, Sweden (UPI) — Australia's Herb Elliott has earned a well-deserved rest after setting two world records in less than a month.

"From now on, my man must get some rest," Elliott's coach, Percy Cerutti, declared Thursday after watching his protegee lower the world record for the 1,500 meter metric mile run to three minutes, 36 seconds. The listed world record is 3:38.1.

Albert Thomas of Australia, who set the pace for Elliott's record-busting 3:54.5 mile run in Ireland Aug. 6, performed the same task Thursday.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By JACK CUDDY United Press International Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — More than 22 million Americans next week will go back to bowling in pin palaces straight out of Arabian Nights, Ted Bensinger of Brunswick-Balke-Collender reported today, as the nation's greatest participant sport booms to the billion-dollar mark.

The sport has come a couple of country miles from the cellar establishments of a few decades ago. Among the 9,000 sites, the largest is a 66-lane spot at Hicksville, Long Island, complete with cocktail lounge and baby sitters.

One place in Kansas City has a man who does nothing else, at $5,600 a year but care for the birds whose cages decorates the establishment.

BENSINGER, president of the bowling equipment firm, lists these reasons as to why bowling has boomed so tremendously with 35 million people expected to be playing the game by 1966:

1. The attraction it holds as a complete family sport.
2. Increased interest among women.
3. Increased formation of industrial, church and fraternal leagues.
4. The automatic pinsetter, which has done away with the need of pin boys and has speeded up the game.

"Women definitely are leading the new boom," he explains. "Women's leagues are growing. Membership in the Women's International Bowling Congress has passed one million, meaning it has twice the membership it had a mere eight years ago."

MARION LADEWIG, the pert Grand Rapids grandmother who has won just about everything in the women's bowling world, nodded agreement.

"Men still outnumber women in bowling, about 3 to 1," she estimated. "But more and more women are bowling every year. They find it a great form of relaxation and entertainment while it also helps to keep them fit."

Most bowlers find the sport sheer fun. As example, during the recent recession there were 400,000 unemployed in Detroit. Yet during that period the number of bowlers in Detroit increased steadily.

And wait 'til the season opens next week.

FAVOR RAMS BY SEVEN OVER BROWNS TONIGHT

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Los Angeles Rams, perennial winners over Cleveland in exhibition games and perennial losers in league action, meet the Browns tonight in the Coliseum — in an exhibition game.

Once again the Los Angeles team is favored over the Browns. This time by seven points. Figured perhaps on the basis of the Rams' two exhibition wins this year and the overall record.

In 12 games since the Ram-Brown series began in 1950, Los Angeles has whipped Cleveland five times out of six times in exhibition games while losing five out of six times in regular season play.

So far this year, the Rams have downed the Washington Redskins, 31-10, and the New York Giants, 38-10, with quarterback Bill Wade as their new headman.

Coach Paul Brown's Cleveland team defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers 10-0 and lost to Detroit's Lions 17-7.

Ram Coach Sid Gillman once again selected Wade as his starter but indicated rookie quarterback Frank Ryan might get to see action if the Rams get out in front.
Injuries forced Gillman to juggle his lineup with shifty Jon Arnett, former great university of Southern California running star, starting at left halfback for Ron Waller.
Waller suffered a shoulder separation in last week's game with the Giants when he piled into the Dodgers' skinned infield and will be out for a month.
Arnett has been operating at flanker back where Gillman has utilized his speed and agility as a pass receiver. He will be replaced there tonight by Gene Mitchell.
On defense, John Baker replaces Frank Fuller at tackle and Roy Wilkins plays for Lou Michaels at end. Michaels, a rookie, was a sensation in last week's game.
Brown planned to start rookie Jim Ninowski at quarterback and Bob Mitchell at right half. They starred in the College All-Stars recent victory over Detroit.
